NOTES:

Mallard is a sweet and delightfully goofy Shepherd mix with a lovable personality that's sure to keep you smiling! This silly boy has a charmingly dopey side and may not always be the sharpest tool in the shed, but he more than makes up for it with his endearing personality. Mallard will likely benefit from a healthy combination of physical exercise and mental enrichment to keep him happy, engaged, and out of mischief. With a little structure, consistency, and plenty of opportunities to learn, he's sure to make a wonderful companion. If you're looking for a lovable goofball to brighten your days, Mallard might be your perfect match!
